

Time spent in an English-speaking country: X

Age: 19

Semester: 4

Faculty: Human Sciences

Topic: Describing a picture

Original Text:

Title: A special house for my puppy

Once upon a time, in a village, there lived a little boy named John. He lived with his family in a house surrounded by wheat and flowers. One day, while John was exploring the outskirts of the village, he found a small puppy. It was sad and full of dirt. John without hesitation, he decided to take the puppy home. When he returned home, his parents told him: you can keep him, but he shouldn't be inside the house, so you can build a special house for him. He was very excited and took a wooden plank, a hammer and some nails and he started to building the house when John finished, the puppy seemed happy and expressed this by barking and play with John.