

Time spent in an English-speaking country: X

Age: 20

Semester: 6

Faculty: Human Sciences

Topic: We should devote most of our lives to being happy.

Original Text:

Title: Happy

Happiness is very important in life for a person to be happy he makes him more capable of continuing life so we must devote ourselves happiness and help others, however it is a condition that makes a person judge her life and his days as beautiful and stable as a result of his feeling of joy and pleasure together.

For someone who loves him happiness varies from person to person, as it carries many meanings and many concepts in the end the happiness is very important in life for a person.